WRITTEN EXERCISES

Due Dates

- Exercise #1: Thursday, 19 March, 4:45 p.m.
Exercise #2: Thursday, 2 April, 4:45 p.m.
Exercise #3: No specific due date.
Exercise #4: Friday, 1 May, 6:30 p.m. (due date for final quiz)

Grading

To receive full points on an exercise, your writing must be neat, in exceptional form, and without error. Further, you must demonstrate strong economic reasoning and insight. You will receive fewer points if your writing has technical errors and exhibits less understanding of economic principles. You will receive zero points for an exercise I receive late. Late means any time after the deadline (for any reason), using my watch. You are responsible for making sure the exercise is in my hands before the deadline. You can submit the exercise early.

Plagiarism

Refer to the University of Michigan-Dearborn Statement of Student Rights & Code of Student Conduct or the Undergraduate Announcement for an explanation of prohibited academic conduct. Ignorance of the definition of plagiarism is not an excuse.

Submission

Written exercises must be typed or computer printed, single or double spaced, and include proper references. Electronic submission is fine and should be attached to a message to bhull@umd.umich.edu. I can read MSWord 2000 or PDF documents. I cannot read MSWord 2007 or later documents. You are responsible for making sure I receive your completed exercise in a form I can read.

Exercise #1: One page maximum, five points.

Pick a topic. Explain your topic and the key points you expect to make. If appropriate, describe your sources of data.

Exercise #2: One or two pages maximum, ten points.

Review the literature. Find references in the scholarly literature to your topic. Include one or more sentences of explanation for each reference. You can refer to work in disciplines other than economics, but you must also include some economics references. "Scholarly literature" means scholarly journals or books, not newspaper stories, magazines, or web content. Cite your references properly.

Exercise #3: Five points.

Present your work to the class. You need not have completed the paper, but you must be able to provide sufficient content to make your work clear to the class. This exercise does not have a specific due date. I will give you sufficient warning before you make the presentation.

Exercise #4: Twenty points.

Write a paper incorporating your previous work. You must use proper references. This paper must be submitted electronically.

Some ideas for paper topics:

Update an older scholarly paper with newer data or data from a different source.

Choose a denomination's item of doctrine and see how it has changed over time in a manner consistent with economic theory or how it differs in different locations in a manner consistent with economic theory.

Compile evidence contradicting the literature and provide an alternative testable hypothesis.

Write a critical review of the literature on one of the following topics:

- Religion and Earnings
- Religion and Economic Growth
- Secularization
- Religions, Sects, and Strictness
- Religion and Allocation of Time
